

Explore Arts & Culture in Sudbury

Sudbury's arts scene is vibrant, surprising, and totally worth exploring. Whether you love live theatre, visual art, or supporting local makers, this day is designed to inspire.

Tour Sudbury's Outdoor Art Gallery

The city's streets are filled with colour thanks to the Up Here Festival's mural collection. Book a guided mural walking tour or use the Up Here app for a self-guided experience, and learn about the artists and stories behind the art.

Catch an Indie Flick at Indie Cinema

Tucked just off downtown, Indie Cinema offers an eclectic mix of Canadian films, international cinema, and documentaries you won't find at the big chains. Cozy, curated, and community-focused, it's a local gem.

Experience YES Theatre at the Refettorio

If you were wowed by the YES Theatre performers at the Opening Ceremonies, you'll love seeing them live at The Refettorio, Sudbury's downtown outdoor performance space. Intimate and electric, it's theatre under the stars at its best.

Shop Local at Sudbury Artisans Collective

For beautiful, locally made souvenirs and gifts, stop by Sudbury Artisans Collective downtown. You'll find handmade items, Indigenous art, jewelry, textiles, and more, perfect for taking a piece of Sudbury home with you.

Gallery Stop and Sweet Treat

Wrap up your artsy afternoon with a visit to Amberhill Gallery, featuring a thoughtful selection of regional fine art. Then, pop next door to Flurples for a scoop (or two) of delicious, vegan-friendly soft serve.
